LOST HIS LIFE ON RAILROAD

Brakeman Met with Accident between New Oxford and Bittering and Died Soon afterward. Manner of Injury Unknown.

Receiving injuries in a manner which will always remain unknown S. F. King, a Western Maryland Railway brakeman died on Tuesday afternoon, after being found on the tender of his train at Bittering, with a deep gash in his forehead a short distance above the bridge of the nose.

King was all right when the heavy freight, eastward bound, passed through New Oxford on its way to Port Covington. When the train pulled into Bittering Station, several miles farther on, a by-stander called the attention of the crew to the prostrate form of the man lying on the rear of the tender. King's one arm was in the man-hole and the lid had fallen on it. His one leg was hanging far out over the side of the car and he was unconscious, apparently from the wound on his head.

The generally accepted theory of his injury was that he was struck by one of the overhead bridges between New Oxford and Bittering, that he was knocked down by the bridge and sustained his injury either from the impact with it or from the sharp edge of the water tank. One of these overhead bridges is located a short distance below New Oxford station and there are others between there and Bittering. Another theory advanced was that King might have jumped from a car to the tender and, slipping, might have struck the side of the tender and received his injury.

As soon as his position was discovered he was taken to the station and there he was left until the afternoon train from Gettysburg to York, leaving here at one o'clock, came along. He was placed on this train and taken to Hanover but when it arrived there he had died. The Western Maryland authorities placed the body in the hands of a Hanover undertaker with instructions to prepare for burial.

The unfortunate brakeman is said to be from Hagerstown, and was about 37 years of age.

At an early hour this morning a head-on collision between two freight trains near Pen Mar resulted in the death of one man and serious injuries to several others. Detailed information is lacking. The morning train due here at 8.41 was two hours late in consequence of this and other causes.

HANDLESS HUNTER

Pulls Trigger with his Teeth. Hunting in this County.

Abraham Myers, of Millersville, is spending a couple of weeks in the lower end of Adams county in search of game. Mr. Myers is an expert shot despite the fact that he is without hands. He handles the gun with his arms, pulling the trigger with his teeth. H. H. Hershey, of York Springs, is well acquainted with the handleless hunter and remembers very well when Mr. Myers met with the accident that deprived him of his hands. Mr. Myers was drilling out a dynamite charge in a lime quarry when the accident occurred. The charge had failed to explode and he was drilling it out when the bar set off the percussion cap blowing off both hands.

TAKEN TO MARYLAND

Given Hearing here, then Turned over to Officers.

William Addlesperger, the Maryland man arrested Saturday morning on suspicion, was taken to Frederick jail on Tuesday by Maryland authorities. Addlesperger was given a hearing before Squire Harnish on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. He admitted the charge and was held for Court but turned over to a Maryland officer when called for.

HURT BY DOG

Reading Township Man Bitten by Dog in Trap.

Henry Kleindinst, of Reading township, was somewhat injured by his farm dog a few days ago. The dog in running about got one of his feet caught in muskrat trap, and while Mr. Kleindinst was in the act of releasing him, the animal maddened with pain, with his claws, tore several ugly wounds in his master's right arm.

TO MEET HERE IN DECEMBER

Fiftieth Anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg Commission will Meet here about the Middle of Next Month.

The Fiftieth Anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg Commission will meet in Gettysburg on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, December 12, 13 and 14 for the purpose of taking up various matters regarding preparations for next year's celebration. The meetings will be held at Hotel Gettysburg and on the camp sites.

A number of United States Army officers are expected to be here to confer with the Pennsylvania Commission regarding various things and the final arrangements for the establishment of the camp of 40,000 veterans will be the principal matter for thought.

One of the most important features of this conference will be a consideration of the various railroad extensions about Gettysburg and the officers are now busily engaged in collecting data regarding that feature.

The entire Pennsylvania Commission is expected to be present with Captain Hartmann and several other Army men. After the actual work of establishing the camp is begun the program for the exercises which remains a matter of much interest will be announced.

The direct financial responsibility for the arrangements are assumed by the War Department but the Pennsylvania Commission has transferred from the amount appropriated by the State the sum of $10,000 which the Department at Washington has accepted on account.

COME HOME FOR THANKSGIVING

Annual Home Coming Day Observed by Many Former Residents of Gettysburg. Family Reunions Numerous.

Thanksgiving has become each year more of a home-coming time for the people of Gettysburg than ever before and this season will be no exception. It is a day for small family gatherings when every member of the family comes home if at all able to do so and almost every home in town will have about the Thanksgiving table as many of its members as live within easy traveling distance.

The observance of the day in Gettysburg, aside from these family gatherings, has come to be very limited. The churches of the town will unite in a union service in the College Lutheran church at seven in the evening, that hour having been chosen in preference to the morning which was the custom for a number of years. The day is a general holiday and all the business places of town will be closed while the post office will observe holiday hours and the rural carriers will have a day off, the city carriers making but one delivery and collection at ten o'clock. The office will open from eleven in the morning until noon and from 6.00 to 6.30 p. m.

A Thanksgiving service will be held in the Episcopal church at ten o'clock in the morning. The hour for the evening union service will be seven o'clock as above noted, instead of 7.30 as previously announced.

The Times joins in the general observance of the day, as do all evening newspapers, and does not publish a paper on Thanksgiving.

No feature of the day is arranged as in many other towns and Gettysburg will have no foot ball contest nor any event of that kind to amuse and entertain its people, the town giving itself over to a quiet celebration of the holiday and contemplation of its real significance.

In the evening, however, many will go to the Wizard Theatre to witness the production of "Tony, the Convict," a home talent show produced for the benefit of the fire company. The cast has been practicing for some weeks and promises an entertainment worthy of patronage. The advance sale of seats is large and a good house will in all probability greet the amateurs. The band and fire company will parade at three o'clock in the afternoon to advertise the play.

H. W. FORREST

Well Known Resident of Littlestown Dies at his Home.

Hamilton W. Forrest, a well known resident of Littlestown, died Monday evening about six o'clock at his home aged 84 years, 8 months and 13 days.

He leaves his wife and the following children, Rev. John Forrest, of Selinsgrove; Emory H. Forrest, of Gettysburg; H. Judson Forrest and Miss Annie L. Forrest, a returned missionary, at home; Granville L. Forrest, of Zelenople; Edward G. C. Forrest, of Philadelphia; Dr. Fletcher B. Forrest, of Bellwood; Miss Emma L. Forrest at home. He also leaves one sister, Mrs. Lydia Deatrack, of Gettysburg; and one brother, Rev. Hanson F. Forrest, of Williamsburg, Mass.

Funeral Thursday afternoon at two o'clock from his late home conducted by Rev. Mr. Watkins, pastor of the Methodist church at Littlestown. Interment in the Littlestown cemetery.

FOR GOOD ROADS

Next Legislature to Take Action, it is Thought.

Highway legislation bids fair to occupy much attention in the coming session of the Legislature as the experimental period of road making is practically ended and the demand for good roads is State wide. It is no longer confined to those localities near cities which have large suburban populations, but comes also from agricultural communities, where the advantages of first class highways reaching county towns and market towns are now recognized. On the next legislature will depend the future of the roads of the State, and the improvements seem certain to go forward, owing to the strong feeling in the interior counties in favor of better highways as an economic proposition. With a plan of distributing the sale of bonds over a period of years as needed and for the retirement of these bonds at the end of five years, the burden will fall lightly compared to the benefits that will be obtained from the development of the highway program and its systematic maintenance along modern lines.

MENACE OF WAR STIRS EUROPE

Tension so Great Peace Appears to Hang on a Thread.

GERMANY TAKES A HAND

Emperor William Proposes Dispute Between Austria and Serbia Be Arbitrated.

Berlin, Nov. 27.—Emperor William has asked the Austrian government to submit to an arbitration conference the dispute between that country and Serbia.

No answer has yet been received from Vienna, but the German emperor is hopeful that Austria will acquiesce in the hope of arbitration.

No Change in Situation.

London, Nov. 27.—No change for the worse in the international political situation brought about by the war in the Balkans is visible except insofar as the continued tension decreases the ability of diplomacy to resist a rupture.

Great Britain, France and Germany all are giving counsels of moderation both at Vienna and St. Petersburg. There also is reason to believe that Great Britain has given Serbia as well as Russia and France to understand that she has no interest in Serbia's demand for a port on the Adriatic sea. She also has told them she has no intention of supporting Serbia's claim by force or arms nor of aiding any other power to do so.

The fact that the Austro-Hungarian consul at Pristina has arrived at Uskup, thus disposing of the reports of his murder, ought to be helpful, in the opinion of diplomats, in bringing about a general improvement of the situation.

But this is offset by a report that Serbian troops have occupied Durazzo, the principal Albanian port on the Adriatic.

Dispatches from the Continent say that nearly 5,000,000 men are under arms in Russia, Germany and Austria, and that Serbia is dispatching all her available troops to the Hungarian border to repel a possible attack from Austria. One ray of hope observed by diplomats in London was a dispatch from Paris stating that conservatives there had started a counter movement against what they term "exaggerated reports" of a possible European war.

Another report was that Italy also was preparing for war. The progress of the negotiations between the delegates of Turkey and of the Balkan allies at Tchatalja is still a sealed book. In diplomatic circles in London it is stated that Turkey has presented the following as an acceptable basis for an agreement: First, no war indemnity.

Second, the retention by Turkey of the territory bounded by the Maritza river, the fortress of Adrianople to be included.

Third, the maintenance of the sovereignty of the sultan of Turkey in Albania. As soon as Truce shows that she really wishes for peace, Bulgaria will, it is authoritatively declared, demonstrate her willingness to spare as much as possible Turkish susceptibilities by still further moderating her demands.

In addition to not insisting on the evacuation of the Tchatalja lines in front of Constantinople by the Turkish troops and allowing the garrison of Adrianople to march out, provided guarantees are given that the troops will not engage in further hostilities, Bulgaria probably will consent to Turkey withdrawing the artillery from that fortress. In other ways also the Bulgarian government will be prepared to do everything possible to aid in establishing a permanent peace. The danger in the general situation arises not alone from the conflicting interests of Austria, Serbia and other powers, but from the possibility that Turkey, following the traditional policy of profiting by the embroilment of the great powers, may adopt an irreconcilable attitude in the peace negotiations. Reports from Belgrade state that the Serbian officers, who now have the upper hand, are absolutely against any compromise, and that King Peter and his cabinet, whose intimate adviser is the Russian minister, will obey their dictates.

WILSON FULLY RECOVERED

President-Elect Attends Governor General's Dinner in Hamilton, Bermuda.

Hamilton, Bermuda, Nov. 27.—President-elect Wilson, who suffered from a slight attack of indigestion, has regained his health.

He was the chief guest at a state dinner given by the governor general, Lieutenant General Sir George M. Balfour, last evening, and he has accepted an invitation to play tennis and take tea on the governor's estate Saturday afternoon.

No special provisions have been made for Thanksgiving dinner by the Wilson family, although if they have turkey it will be a cold storage bird from the United States, as turkeys are not raised in Bermuda.

The president-elect has planned to go to Staunton, Va., his birthplace, Dec. 28, for the celebration of his fifty-sixth birthday anniversary.

COAL CO. OFFICIAL HELD FOR REBATING

Accused of Accepting $60,000 From Railroads.

Chicago, Nov. 27.—Thomas O'Gara, president of the O'Gara Coal company, was indicted by a federal grand jury, charged with accepting a rebate from subsidiaries of the New York Central railroad system.

The indictment was returned before United States District Judge Carpenter and specifically charges the acceptance of a rebate from the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis railroad and the Chicago, Indiana & Southern railroad through the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern railway.

The rebating charges arose from the discovery by the interstate commerce commission of the payment of $60,000 to the O'Gara Coal company in November, 1909. The three New York Central subsidiaries were indicted jointly with the O'Gara Coal company last Friday.

Scott was forty-eight years old and his wife six years his senior. They were married last August.

Taft Opposed to Renomination.

Washington, Nov. 27.—President Taft has informed friends that no matter how active his participation in a reorganization of the Republican party may be, he is not to be regarded or publicly referred to in political speeches by Republicans as being a possible candidate of the party in 1916.

The president has made it plain that he does not wish to be considered as in any way having an eye on the first place on the Republican ticket four years from now. He intends to do all in his power to help rejuvenate the party and probably will make many political speeches before March 4; but according to close friends, he is in the fight to continue the party and to try to return it to power as a man who has been its standard bearer for four years and not as a man seeking a re-nomination four years hence.

Booth's HYOMEI is an antiseptic soothing, healing air, made chiefly from Australian Eucalyptus. Its so easy to use; just pour a few drops into the hard rubber inhaler and breathe it; that's all.

You'll know in five minutes that HYOMEI is reaching the sore membrane and its soothing influence is bringing you most comfortable relief.

For Catarrh, Croup, Sore Throat, Coughs, Colds and Asthma People's Drug Store is authorized to guarantee HYOMEI or money back.
